Job Description

We are looking for a motivated, full-time, in-house front-end developer to join our team. You should be comfortable working in C# .NET Core with expert knowledge in Vue.js and other popular JavaScript frameworks. As a rapidly growing company, your creative ideas and execution of responsibilities are crucial to our successful trajectory. Our team is composed of scientists and analytical thinkers; we believe that a scientific approach and objective openness to problem solving are fundamental.

Requirements

- BS in CS or related field preferred, minimal a 4-year degree with related experience
- Minimum three years experience with front-end development and working within an agile team

Skills and Responsibilities

- Expert Vue experience; Angular or React experience with willingness to pick up Vue.
- Ability to mentor teammates and advise based on your expert experience.
- Solid understanding of software design patterns.
- Debugging like a scientist - using hypothesis testing to find the root of a problem.
- Following best practices and standards.
- Writing beautiful, well rounded documentation that accompanies your code.
- Able to balance the demands of product managers and clients while still meeting deadlines of a sprint; can prioritize and communicate accordingly.
- Accuracy with time estimations of deliverables; highly capable of planning in both the short and long-term.
